And this has all been indorsed b the Editor, and the perpetrator landed and praised as fitted most for the seventh Heavens. The result is, that persons of no merit whatever, either as writers of prose or poetry, are stuck up as the literati of the country; and all genuine merit hereabours, unwilling to enter the list with curs of such low degree, or to compete with literary thieves, have withheld their labors almost entirely from the world.

It is time the Editor of a leading political newspaper should begin to show a little sense in this matter. His firtations with the swarm of petesses that fill his columns with their prurient offspring, would, perhaps, be excusable if not introded upon the ears of the public.

NECROLOGICAL. - The New York Herald of Fri day publishes a necrological index for the year 1856. It occupies six columns and a half, in fine type. This country has lost, among others, Mr. Berrien: Major Eaton; Senator Clayton; Governor Troup; Commodore Morris; Percival, the geologist; George Steers, the ship-builder; and Caroline Lee Hentz, the authoress. Great Britain has to regret the death of Lord Hardinge, the hero of many bloody fights; Sir Henry Pot tinger, a military diplomat; Sir John Ross, the Arctic navigator; Buckland, the geologist; Father Matthew, the "apostle of temperance;" and Westmacot', the sculptor. Russia monras for Prince Paskiewitch, the brilliant representative of two Czars in Poland; Prince Woronzoff, a faithful and sagacious counsellor; Gen. Rudiger, a valient soldier and Admiral Sprcow, whose name is immortalized for the planning and carrying into operation the bridge which led his comrades from the south to the north side of Sevastopol, after the capture of the Malakoff. Count Bombelles, the second husband of Marie Louise died on the Continent in great indigence. Count Esterhay, of Austria, was carried off rather anddenly in Bersin, where he represented the Emperor Prancis Joseph as Minister, Sir William Temple, Lord Palmerston s brother, who for a long time held the post of English Mi ister at the Neapolitan Court, is also dead Science, literature, and the fine arts have been stricken in the person of Sharpe, the geologist; Sir William Hamilton, the metal hysician, Von Bicla, the astronomer; Henri Heine, the German writer Thierry and Count de Tocqueville, and a host of others. The musical and theatrical circles have lost Madame Vestris, Adolphe Adam, John Fraham, Bochsa, and Lindpainter.

THE OPEN POLAR SEA .- On the 23d inst., Dr. subject. Isaac J. Haves, Surgeon of the ship Advance, and one of those who accompanied Dr. Kane on that memorable expedition which shed such glory on the American name, delivered a most interestng lecture before the Maryland Institute, at Baltimore. The discourse was listened to with marked attention by an unusually large and inelligent audience, who testified by their attendance and approbation, the deep interest they felt n everything pertaining to this attempt to open p the physical geography of the high polar regions. In speaking of the Open Polar Sca, Dr. Haves remarked.

The northern terminus of Smith's Strait was ret undeveloped, and every member of the ex-pedition felt a personal interest in wishing that it should be known. Moreton was despatched with the dog team and Esquimaux sleds—making his starting point a depot of provisions that had been eposited at the eastern terminus of the Sound previous fall. The results of this journey are well known. Moreton found a new channel opering from the northwestern angle of the Sound, free from ice, and travelling fifty miles along its margin on the ice afoot, he looked ou.

on an iceless sea. This was in July. Whether this is an open water space through out the winter-what bearing it may have upon he question of an open | plar sea, the existence which was long ago predicted—I will not atfacts of physical geography by the decision of wiser heads. I have only one thing to say in relation to it. The Polar sea is yet n riddle How long shall it be suffered to remain so? Will not some one be found-and he too an American citizen-who will penetrate this myster and place the question beyond a doubt, treading the shores of this Polyma, and embarking upon its waters, unfurl at the northern axis of our planet the flag that has heralded human progress round the world, and covers with its sacred folds the onward march of science? I think there will be. I think the question should claim the of our Government. A small screw steamer, fitted out at a triffing expense - a small rew, with brave hearts beating in patriotic bosoms, is all that is demanded. Speaking for one person, I can say that the greatest joy of my life would be to stand where geographers oredica an open pelar ocean.

James Shannon, L. L. D, and Elder Dr. Henderson, pastor of the Christian church, in this city, arrived in Memphis on the 26th nlt. The weather yesterday, was intensely cold throughout the day, as may be inferred from the fact of its freezing in the sun. We understand the price of coal was raised vesterday to forty cents per bushel. The supply in the hands of dealers is very small.

IT Lewis Baker, who killed the celebrated Bill Poole in Stanwix Hall, New York, has been released from imprisonment in $5,000 bail.

TEXAS .- It is believed that the emigration to the . 'Lone Star State' during the next twelve months, will quadruple that to any other State of the Union.

From present indications wood-choppers and dealers may expect in a few days to realize large profits upon their labor and capital. The scarcity of coal will largely increase this trade.

Mo Housekeepers will do well to sprinkle the pavements in front of their residences this cold weather with ashes or such other material as will ensure safety to the pedestrian.

A very aged negro woman slipped and fell upon the pavement yesterday-injuring herself very seriously. We heard of several instances of lofty tumbling, but without any great damage to the fallen. HYMENIAL .- Jno, B. Norman, the able editor that excellent Democratic paper, the New Albany Ledger, was married to Miss Isabella Walter, of Charlestown, Indiana, on the 31st ult. Hurrah for the press.

The mail agent brought the mail yesterday from the steamer Superior in a wagon. The Superior is lying broadside in the gorge. The North Star, Gen. Pike, and the two barges of the Memphis are in about the same condition.

On Dir.—Most of the young ladies of this city are under promise of marriage. They have been going off at the rate of half a dozen per day for the two months last past. We wish them, one and all, a good time of it-health, wealth, and posterity in abundance. -----

It was this illness which prevented his attendance at Frankfort at the convening of the electoral college on the 3d ult. llis place, i will be remembered, was filled by the election of Major T. T. Hawkins, of Louisville.

Should the present exceedingly cold veather continue a few days longer, the river will unquestionably be frozen over from here to Pittsburgh. In such an event it will be several weeks before navigation can be resumed, and perhaps longer before a supply of coal is received.

NEW RAILROAD ARRANGEMENT .- The new arrangement resulting from the consolodation of the two railroad companies between this place and Lexington, went into operation on Thursday. The express and passenger trains now run through, from point to point, without change. ARRESTED FOR FORGERY .- A telegraphic disoatch from St. Louis, of the 31st, states that E. C. Davis, late Superintendent of Public Schools in Missouri, has been arrested for forgeries upon various firms and banking houses in St. Joseph, amounting to 12,060. The School funds are said to be safe. Mr. Davis was the late Superintendent of the Common Schools in Missonri, and was the candidate of the American party for the same office at the recent election. THEATER-Mr. Drew made his last appearance last night. The new play of Po-Ca-Hon-Tas, was received with shouts of laughter. Mr. Wood Benson's personation of Capt. John Smith, was excellent. To-morrow night Mr. and Mrs. Florence will make their first appearance this season. It is needless for us to say anything in their favor, for every-body knows they are hard to beat. The performance will commence with "Ireland as it is;" in which the Florences will both appear. To conclude with a "Lesson for Husbands," in which Mr. Florence will appear as Tim O'Blany, and Mrs. Florence will personate seven characters, dance the Young American Hornpipe, and

PANORAMA OF THE RUSSIAN WAR-MOZART HALL .- This exhibition has been well attended every evening during the week. It is, without exception, the best exhibition ever shown in Louisville; every scene has been received with applause. We consider the Baltic Fleet at Anchor, trnly beautiful; the lights from the line of ships, and the reflection of the moon upon the sea, forms a scene of the most sublime nature. The Fire of Varna, as the flames and the smoke gradually arise, till the whole city is enveloped and the harbor and shipping is illuminated, as a representation, can only be surpassed by the thing itself. The Storm at Sea, the great Cavalry Charge at Balaklava, and the Fall and Capture of the Malakoff, in which all the horrors of war are embodied, with the city on fire, forms a scene. once beheld, can never be forgot; and we must impress on all that none should miss seeing itman, woman or child. relates the following: Ed. H. paid his addresses to Rosa, the daughter of a Dr. P., of that city, but his snit was not favored by her parents, and she was driven to make clandestine appointments with her dar-ling Ed. One of these eventuated funnily enough. Ed, was to come to the house and wait outside till the lights were turned off, and then she would quietly let him in. The evening came, and Rosa thought her parents would never retire. But after a while the Dr. sought his . Clarke, of this State, was married in the city | night-cap, and Rosa slipped off into the back parlor and sat down in the dark. EAGLE FOUNDRY. ILEN S. WALLACE J. S. LITHGOW J. HENRY THOMAS WALTACH, LITHGOW & CD. STOVE, GRATE, COPPER, TIT, SHEET-IRON AND HOLLOW WARE MANUFACTURERS, No 536, Northwest corner Main and Third Streets,

LOUISVILLE, KY. IN calling the attenuor of dealers in our line in this a maket, we would issue that during the last six months our attestion has been directed to getting up a large number of new shows and Grare Patterns, which, added to our already large stock, gives us one of the most extensive and diversitied assortments in the Western market. Among the number, we would refer to our "Ashland Kentuckini" Cook Slove, (three sizesout). There stores have great weight of meta, highly fulshed and eligant in appearance. They combine all the modera improvenents that practical experience has daveloped. We would invise dealers to call and examine for themselves, and we think in quality, price, &c., they can be soited. Having enlarged our manufacturing department, we can promptly nect all domaids. Thankful for the patrosage which has been so kindly bestowed upon us, we trust by strict and pompt stention to fill orders, to secure a configurate our sherefore, equal if not superfor to the best, and sall-faction given in all cases.
